

Action Learning: Problem Solving Group For SEND Parents

Action Learning is a well-proven way to raise difficult questions and explore individual solutions safely with others who are experiencing the same issues. Parents whose children have social communication needs, and may feel isolated, can apply now (details below).

Parents can explore challenges together, identify then try out an individual action plan. Parents see how their plan works and return to the group a month later to share their experiences of what helped, and maybe what didn't, before deciding what to do next.

Sam Silver and Ros Lucas, both trained Action Learning facilitators and parents of people with communication needs will run the groups.

There are 12 places for individual parents to participate in one of two ALGS. Each group will be arranged to match families by the age and stage of their child. Both groups will be held at Barnes Children's Centre, Mortlake.

To apply: Please email Tom@action-attainment.com for your application form.

1. Allocation of ALG places: Action-attainment will review applications and allocate places aiming to set up two peer groups whose children are at a similar stage of development.

Group dates: 06/12/18, 31/01/19, 28/02/19, 28/03/19, 25/04/19 and 23/05/19.

2. Costs: There are both free and subsidised places available (£72 course fee, e.g. 6 sessions at £12 per session).
